Acting/Theatre
Associate in Arts & Sciences – Direct Transfer (DTA)

GENERAL INFORMATION
EvCC offers courses and a program for students interested in studying acting for their own personal interests, or with an intention of preparing for a university major in Drama, Theatre Arts, Acting, or other performance program.

The Fine Arts faculty emphasizes study and skill development in a specific discipline of the fine arts, as well as coursework in related disciplines. Students will gain experience through class work, workshops, performance opportunities, quarterly productions and local internships. Theatre is closely tied to other departments on campus, especially in the areas of literature, humanities, communication studies, film, and the visual arts.

All theatre students should be aware that the field of theatre makes great demands on their time, their energies and their abilities. Self-discipline, maturity, and a strong sense of responsibility are required for anyone wishing to enter the field. Flexibility will be important, as you consider the availability of both performance roles and production crew activities.

WHAT TO EXPECT
Theatre productions at EvCC give students the opportunity to act, write, design, and help run a production. Students also may design independent projects based on their interests. Workshops are offered regularly and have focused on voiceover skills, movement and stage combat, standup comedy, improvisation, playwriting techniques, and mask work.

CAREER OPTIONS
Theatre is a reflection of society, an exploration of life on and off stage. For that reason, the study of theatre can be applied to any career choice. Career options in theatre include acting, play direction, playwriting, scene design, light design, costume design, theatre historian, dramaturgy, artistic director, theatre criticism, stage management, technical direction, stage construction, costume construction, and many other administrative and performance related careers.

Performance experience is also beneficial for careers in government and politics, sales, public relations, trial law, and other professions that deal directly with the public. In addition, theatre experience enhances communication and collaboration skills needed in team building.

DEGREE PROGRAM
