Financial Aid regulations state the family has primary responsibility for meeting the educational costs of students. Dependent students are required by law to provide parental information and signature(s) to be considered for financial aid. When parents refuse to provide their information on the FAFSA there is an exception that allows the student to apply for an Unsubsidized Loan only, at the discretion of a financial aid administrator.

If you have a situation where your parents refuse to provide their information on the FAFSA and refuse to provide you with financial support, complete and submit the attached form for a decision to apply for an unsubsidized loan only at the discretion of a financial aid administrator. If your parents refuse to sign and date a statement to this effect, you must get documentation from a third party, such as a teacher, counselor, cleric, or court.
