Advisor List

Why should I have a faculty advisor?

Faculty advisors can provide good information about course content, prerequisites, and general course demands. They can help you make decisions about your educational and career goals.

Important reminder!

A faculty advisor signature is required for all students applying for a degree/certificate. So, it is important to connect with an advisor early to make sure you are on the right track to graduate.

Who should I ask?

If you have a specific program or major in mind, ask someone who teaches in that field. If you are uncertain about your educational goals, ask a general advisor with whom you can plan your courses. When you clarify your goals you may want to change advisors.

What will my advisor expect of me?

You should make an appointment, be on time, have a copy of your transcript, a curriculum guide, and any transfer information and college catalogs you may need. Prepare for your meeting by reading the brochures and/or parts of the catalog that apply to your program. See your advisor each quarter, well before your registration date.
