

A-to-Z

A-to-Z is a list of all the magazines, newspapers, and journals available in full-text to the EvCC community. Titles are from subscription databases (paid for by the college), free web sites, and the library's physical collection. A-to-Z can be searched by title, browsed by subject, or browsed by database. The most common uses are finding out whether we have full-text access to a specific journal or finding out what periodicals we have in a particular field of interest.

Accessing

- 1) Go to the library home page <http://www.everettcc.edu/library/>
- 2) Click the link 'All Databases listed by title'
- 3) Click the link 'A-to-Z.' No password is required to access A-to-Z, though you may be prompted for your student/staff ID number when you try to view periodicals from certain databases (indicated by an ID card icon) within A-to-Z.

Searching: 'Periodical Titles' tab

The screenshot shows the 'A-to-Z' page of the Everett Community College Library. The page has a red header with the college logo and the text 'Library A-to-Z List of all periodicals available to EvCC students.' Below the header are navigation tabs: 'Library Home', 'Periodical Titles' (selected), 'Subject Browse', 'Database List', and 'About A to Z'. A search bar is present with the text 'Find:' and a 'Search' button. Below the search bar is a list of periodicals, including 'A. Magazine' and 'AAACN viewpoint'. Annotations with arrows point to various elements: one points to the search bar with the text 'Enter a few words from the magazine or journal title here.'; another points to the 'A. Magazine' entry with the text 'This is the database or collection where full-text of the title may be found. Click to access the journal.'; a third points to the subject link 'Social Sciences -- Ethnic Interests' with the text 'Click on the subject link to find similar periodicals.'; and a fourth points to the database icons (e.g., ProQuest, EBSCO) with the text 'Icons indicate whether a collection is an online database, a free web site, or part of the EvCC library's physical holdings.'
