

Library-Media Services

<http://www.everettcc.edu/library/>

netLibrary: Electronic Books

What is it?

netLibrary is an online collection of books available to EvCC students and staff from any computer with online access. Books cover a wide range of topics, but the collection is particularly strong in the areas of business, technology, career planning and study skills.

How do I start?

1. Go to the library web page at <http://www.everettcc.edu/library>
2. Under, Books, DVDs & More, click the link for E-Books. (Off-campus users will be prompted for their EvCC student or staff ID number.)
3. Optional: On the netLibrary page, you can click on the link on the top right to 'Create a free account.' This allows you to keep a list of favorite e-books and save notes for books you view.

How do I find a book?

Enter keywords, such as the title, author, or subject into the search box. Words do not need to be in any specific order. You may want to change the default search from full-text to keyword. The full-text search looks for words anywhere in the text of netLibrary books and may bring you irrelevant titles.

What do I get?

A list of electronic books available through netLibrary that match your search criteria.

Can I print parts of a book?

Yes, but you must print each page separately using your browser's print commands. Printing an entire ebook violates copyright laws, and you may receive warnings from netLibrary for excessive printing. See netLibrary's online 'help' section for more information.

How do I cite an ebook for a research paper?

See netLibrary's online 'help' section for more examples.

APA citation format:

Kasser, B. (2000). Practical Internet. Indianapolis, IN: Que. Retrieved July 31, 2002, from netLibrary: <http://www.netLibrary.com/>

MLA citation format:

Weisinger, Hendrie. The Power of Positive Criticism. New York: AMACOM Books, 2000.
netLibrary. 31 Jul. 2002.
<http://emedialibrary.com/reader/reader.asp?product_id=16208>.

What do these netLibrary terms mean?

- Account: The netLibrary account is separate from your EvCC library account. You create this account yourself online to manage the electronic books you use.
- Ebook: A book that can be read from a computer screen or other electronic device. The book may or may not also be available as a printed book.
- Favorites: An online list of ebooks that are of interest to you or that you frequently use. These books can quickly be accessed for browsing or check out. You must be logged on to your account to view or add ebooks to your favorites list.
- Notes: Comments you have added for yourself to particular pages of an ebook. They can be viewed with or without the corresponding ebook passage. You must be logged on to your account to view or make notes.
- Show Details: View publication information—author, title, publisher, date, subject heading(s), and language—about the book as well as selected excerpts from the book.
- View this eBook: Allows you exclusive use of an ebook. If you close the book or are not actively browsing it, it becomes immediately available for someone else to use. You do not have to log in to an EvCC or netLibrary account to browse an ebook from a campus computer.

What if I can't find the book I need?

netLibrary is one of many electronic book collections. It does not contain all available electronic books. And, no electronic collection includes all books ever published. If you need a book not available through netLibrary, try the EvCC library catalog <http://everett.library.ctc.edu/vwebv/searchBasic> or your local library. For assistance, contact the Reference Librarian at 425-388-9354 or library@everettcc.edu