

GENERAL INFORMATION

Global education provides for the study of international issues within a multidisciplinary framework. An education that focuses on the interdependence of communities fuels your ability to contribute to important decision-making processes. This endorsement is designed as an introduction to cultural, political, and economic perspectives of processes at the global level.

Within this endorsement are three areas of concentrations:

1. Global Citizenship Concentration
2. Policy and Conservation Concentration
3. Social Entrepreneurship Concentration

Each Concentration outlines a different set of courses for completion of the endorsement and is usually associated with a course of study to be pursued once the student reaches the university setting. While you might take some courses in each of the areas of Concentration, you must ultimately choose at least one Concentration to earn the endorsement. You may be able to achieve more than one Concentration if you plan your classes carefully. It is strongly suggested that you meet with a Global Studies advisor to best determine the courses that will form this educational foundation.

Typically, students follow-up their community college studies at the bachelor's degree level, and then at the master's level. Enjoy the benefits of smaller classes (and lower tuition) by beginning your college study at a community college and then transferring to a university.

GETTING STARTED AT EVCC

Our Enrollment Services Office provides information about application, advising, orientation and registration for new and continuing students. Though advising is voluntary, we invite students to contact the Enrollment Services Office or the Counseling Advising and Career Center (CACC) in order to speak one-to-one with an EvCC advisor. Contact:

- Enrollment Services, Jackson Center, (425) 388-9219, admissions@everettcc.edu
- CACC, Third Floor, Parks, (425) 388-9263

YOU HAVE OPTIONS

Any student at Everett Community College can complete the courses required for an endorsement in one or more of the three Concentration areas. As an emphasis, Global Studies is relevant to many types of careers and interests.

Endorsements: After the final quarter of study, submit an Endorsement Application (available in Gray Wolf Hall, Room 322, Communication and Social Sciences Division office). Please note that the Endorsement does not appear on your transcript, so retention of your documentation paperwork is critical.

Certificate (Social Entrepreneurship only): As a part of the Social Entrepreneurship Concentration, you will have completed a certificate in entrepreneurship at EvCC. Meet with a Social Entrepreneurship advisor for guidance in completing the necessary paperwork.

Completion of an entire associate degree is not required. However, the Global Studies concentrations do fit very well into the requirements of the Associate in Arts and Sciences – Option II. This degree meets statewide guidelines for smooth transition to most of Washington's colleges and universities, and several in Oregon. Upon obtaining the degree you will have completed most or all of the lower division, general education typically required within a bachelor's degree. The complete description of the specific degree program you have chosen is provided in the Associate of Arts and Sciences Direct Transfer Guide. A checklist for a Global Studies endorsement within the Associate in Arts and Sciences – Option II degree is provided on the fourth page of this guide.

Alternatively, the Associate in Technical Arts in Entrepreneurship is also a good match for the Social Entrepreneurship endorsement.

These are several careers and personal interest areas that benefit from a Global Studies concentration:

- | | |
|----------------------------------|-------------------|
| ● Government | ● Business |
| ● Non-governmental organizations | ● Media |
| ● Cultural organizations | ● Retail |
| ● Environmental policy | ● Education |
| ● Field or Lab research | ● Lobbying |
| ● International corporations | ● Law |
| ● Entrepreneurial business | ● Self-employment |

~GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP~

Everett Community College is committed to preparing graduates as citizens of a rapidly changing world. Today's world is more interconnected than ever before due to technological changes, faster means of travel, international business agreements, and political treaties. The Global Citizenship Concentration broadens cultural horizons so that you can become culturally proficient with global perspectives; this need is an absolute necessity to succeed professionally in local classrooms, employment settings and the global marketplace.

ADVISORS

To find out more about the Global Citizenship Concentration of the Global Studies endorsement, please contact:

- Cynthia Clarke, Gray Wolf Hall 218, (425) 388-9382; cclarke@everettcc.edu
- Steven Horn, Gray Wolf Hall 323, (425) 388-9394; shorn@everettcc.edu

- Lori Wisdom-Whitley, Gray Wolf Hall 315, (425) 388-9379; lwisdom@everettcc.edu

SUGGESTED PREPARATION

Strong reading and writing skills are essential. Immersion in a diverse environment and a willingness to interact with people and in social organizations are helpful. Foreign language skills will be useful and may be required. Attending cultural festivities (music, dance), performances, or religious ceremonies of another culture might be helpful. Participation in volunteer programs such as ESL tutoring, mentoring through the EvCC Diversity and Equity Center, and EvCC Refugee Forum is encouraged.

CAREER OPTIONS

Graduates of the Global Citizenship Concentration will be prepared to pursue careers or further study in government, business, non-governmental organizations, education, law, media, and cultural organizations.

GLOBAL CITIZENSHIP CONCENTRATION COURSES:

Please see "Note Regarding Common Course Numbering" on page 4.

REQUIRED COURSES:

1. Three (3) courses in a World Language (in a sequence)
2. CMST 204 [SPCH 204D]
3. GS 101D

REQUIRED ELECTIVE (CHOOSE ONE OF THE FOLLOWING):

Humanities: ART 124D; ENGL 119 or ENGL135D; HUM 160, 166D or 247D; MUSC 110D.

~POLICY AND CONSERVATION~

The Policy and Conservation Concentration includes the study of living organisms in relation to their environments and the impact of human society and technology on those ecosystems. Policy and Conservation may be approached with an emphasis in the biological sciences, in legal issues, in economics, or in computer-modeled systems. Regardless of emphasis, understanding of international environmental politics and issues is extremely valuable to anyone pursuing one of those study areas.

ADVISORS

If you are interested in learning more about the Policy and Conservation Concentration of the Global Studies endorsement, please contact:

- Pamela Pape-Lindstrom, Shuksan 118 (425) 388-9480; ppape@everettcc.edu
- Fayla Schwartz, Shuksan 117, (425) 388-9451; fschwartz@everettcc.edu

SUGGESTED PREPARATION

You should have solid writing and communication skills, a strong algebra background, and high school courses in biology, chemistry and physics. If you do not have that background, you may gain it at the community college before starting the courses that will count toward your degree.

CAREER OPTIONS

Public environmental policy, environmental education, environmental and resource management, lobbying, law, government, business, non-governmental organizations, field or lab research, and education are some of the areas in which graduates may pursue careers.

~SOCIAL ENTREPRENEURSHIP~

The Entrepreneurship program at Everett Community College is designed to produce graduates who have the knowledge, experience and skills to launch their own businesses. This degree provides coursework needed to pursue self-employment, enhance existing business skills or to further prepare for entry or advancement in the global workforce. Students will learn how to operate a business in a globally competitive market.

Completion of the Social Entrepreneurship Concentration earns you BOTH an endorsement in Social Entrepreneurship and a certificate in Entrepreneurship; the certificate may lead to an Associate in Technical Arts in Entrepreneurship.

ADVISOR

If you are interested in learning more about the Social Entrepreneurship Concentration of the Global Studies endorsement, please contact:

🌀 Lynne Muñoz, Olympus 216, (425) 388-9175
lmunoz@everettcc.edu

SUGGESTED PREPARATION

Strong skills in writing and mathematics are helpful. In addition, students should have computer literacy skills and library research skills. The ability to “think outside the box,” filter and organize information, and work in teams are helpful characteristics.

CAREER OPTIONS

Graduates of this program may become business owners or use new knowledge and skills to grow and manage an existing business or organization. Entrepreneurial skills and global competence may be used in any type of company or organization from retail to education to social non-profit organizations.

Associate in Arts and Sciences - Option II

This checklist is targeted at transfer students with an interest in GLOBAL STUDIES. It should be maintained by the student while at Everett Community College. The quarter before expected completion, this checklist should be submitted by the student, with a diploma application, to the Enrollment Services Office. This checklist refers to requirements listed in the curriculum guide titled "Associate in Arts and Sciences – Option II", which lists all the courses which are approved for the various categories of requirements. Note: Though courses in a foreign language are not required in the Option II degree, for the student interested in Global Citizenship Concentration, World Language skills are a requirement and are strongly recommended for the other two Concentrations.

NOTE REGARDING COMMON COURSE NUMBERING: Courses listed with an ampersand in the course number (e.g. ENGL&101) reflect the new Common Course Numbering System. Courses in [brackets] are the "old" course numbers and may be used to satisfy requirements. For more information, go to www.everettcc.edu/ccn
