

"Nursing Pre-Application" Class

All students wishing to apply to Everett's Nursing Program must complete the "Nursing Pre-Application" class. This is a non-credit class that should take you no more than a few hours and is a means by which to get your transcripts reviewed and make sure you have become familiar with the program and its application requirements.

This class is mandatory for anyone wishing admittance into Everett's Nursing Program. Students who have not finished the class before the deadline date they wish to compete for, will not be considered for that application period. This means that if you wish to apply for Fall quarter (deadline July 5) you would take the class Spring quarter. To apply for Winter (deadline September 5) take the class during the summer. If interested in Spring quarter (deadline January 5) the class must be completed Fall quarter. The class will not be offered during the Winter quarter.

The Pre-Application class will be required for every quarter in which the student wishes to apply. The fee for the nursing Pre-Application class is a one-time charge, and will only be applied the first time a student enrolls in the class. The fee will be waived for all subsequent registrations for the Pre-Application class.

This is a permission-required class and its prerequisite is met when you have turned in official unopened copies of all transcripts from other schools to the Health Professions Service Center (HPSC) in Liberty Hall, room 251. You will be given a permission code at this time. If all prerequisite classes were completed at EvCC, there is no need to turn in official transcripts, but a permission code is still needed to enroll in the class. You may get the code by coming by the HPSC office. While enrolled in the class, students will fill in a form to request an official credit evaluation of their transcripts, which can take about 8 weeks, and meet with an adviser if they have not previously done so.
